This week we will be praying for the following students: Jerome (PS 4am) and Isaac (K).

Next week we will be celebrating National Lutheran Schools Week. It is a time set aside each year to remember our rich heritage of Lutheran schools.

I would like to point out a few details concerning Lutheran Christian education. Our church body has 87 high schools (one of which I attended), 778 elementary schools (one of which I attended) and 1,127 early childhood centers (one of which is ours) and 200,000 students, their families and communities with which we share the Gospel.

Next week remember our staff and students, and when you see them, encourage and thank them for their work and partnership with you in education.
